On Monday we welcomed

Vin from CAFOD who came to talk to the children in assembly about the important and valuable work CAFOD does. Vin shared a video with the children that told them about the work they are doing supporting children in the Amazon Rainforest to defend their rights. The theme for CAFOD's

Lenten fundraising this year links with football and is called 'What is your goal?' Over LENT we will be fundraising for CAFOD and our School Council are going to come up with some suggestions of what we can do linked to the football theme. More details will follow.

World Book Day has been a wonderful success! We always love to see the children "dressed up" as a variety of book characters. Each year, you amaze us with the original and creative ideas. Thank you for all the effort you go to. Inspiring our children to enjoy reading and to want to read a range of books is of huge importance to us in school.

I could not fit all the photos from the day on this newsletter so please take a look at our Twitter and Facebook pages where you will find lots of wonderful pictures of the children. Thank you to our School Council who judged the 'best costume' competition. I do not envy them as it was a very hard decision!

Our value for March is HONESTY

Honest people tell the truth. They do not let others take the blame for something they have done.

You can show honesty by:

- Telling the truth at all times.
- Taking responsibilities for your good/wrong actions.
- Showing others that you believe them.
- Accepting your mistakes and learning lessons for the future.

During March, we will be focussing on the importance of being honest with ourselves as well as with others. We will think about how being honest with others inspires trust and respect from them. It may bring rewards and benefits that may not always be obvious at first.
